Dr. Emmanuel F. Kishore was born in Guntur (AP) and did most of his schooling there, apart from two years when his family lived in Kenya where his father worked for some time. He joined CMC Vellore in the MBBS batch of 1981 and graduated in 1986, following which he went to serve with the Andhra Evangelical Lutheran Church (AELC). He worked at three different AELC hospitals in Guntur, Rajamundhry, and Chirala over the next three years. He returned to Vellore in 1991 to do his postgraduation in paediatrics, after which he worked in Khariar Road (Orissa) and then Hoskote (Karnataka) with the Mar Thoma Church mission hospitals. In 2000 he came back to CMC Vellore and worked in the department of paediatrics while his wife Dr. Sarah George Emmanuel was doing her PG in Community Health. In 2003, the family moved to the Marthoma Mission Hospital in Ankola (Karnataka) where they served for the next 12 years, with Dr. Kishore serving as the Medical Superintendent. In 2015 the family moved to CMC Vellore Chittoor Campus, where Dr. Kishore and Dr. Sarah started the departments of paediatrics and community health over the next few years. Over the next 8-9 years paediatric and community health services in the areas in and around Chittoor slowly developed. He retired from our institution on 27th April, 2024.

Drs. Kishore and Sarah have two children – their son John is an engineer working with Amazon in Bangalore, and their daughter Joanna was from the MBBS batch of 2015 from CMC Vellore. The Chittoor campus is grateful to Dr. Kishore for his valuable contributions and wishes him and his family all the very best and all of God's blessings for the years ahead.
